HERITAGE

Carson Valley boasts the oldest town in Nevada – Genoa, which was settled by John Reese in 1851. Within the main town square is the Mormon Station State Historic Park, the Courthouse Museum of Genoa and the Oldest Bar in Nevada, the Genoa Bar & Saloon, a popular watering hole to this day. Boutique shops, antiques, a general store, restaurants and an art gallery are all found within this quiet, peaceful small town.

Gardnerville got its start in 1879 when Lawrence Gilman purchased the Kent House and had it moved from its location south of Genoa to a seven-acre parcel of land on the east fork of the Carson River. There, near the site of what is today the J.T. Basque Bar and Dining Room, the building was converted to a hotel. A blacksmith shop and saloon were later added. The hotel was the center of the hay and grain producing community that became Gardnerville, named for Gilman’s friend John Gardner.

H.F. Dangberg, Jr. established Minden in 1905 to fulfill his vision of a European-style planned community designed around a town square, Minden Park. Minden was named after a German town near the birthplace of Dangberg’s father, H.F. Dangberg, Sr., a pioneer in Carson Valley and founder of the Dangberg Land and Livestock Company. The V&T Railroad’s extension of a rail line to Carson Valley, with Minden as the terminus, was key to Dangberg’s plans for the town’s future. The railroad spurred the growth of Carson Valley into a hub of agriculture. Located in the heart of Douglas County, Carson Valley has changed from a small farming community to a must-see on any bucket list.

OUTDOOR ADVENTURE

Get in a few rounds at your choice of four local golf courses or simply kick back at a hot spring. Located less than 30 minutes away, Lake Tahoe offers reasons to play in any season – hiking, biking and water activities, and snow sports galore. CARSON VALLEY MUSEUMS

Carson Valley is rich in the history of the Great American West. Its communities honor those roots today through their museums and many historic sites. In Gardnerville, the Museum and Cultural Center is a marvelous place to spend an afternoon exploring exhibits on Nevada's Basque and Native American heritage and its modern-day wild mustangs. Learn more about early life in Carson Valley at the Dangberg Home Ranch Historic Park, founded by a family that was here when Nevada began. Take in a guided tour of the ranch house or explore the ranch on foot and through the lens of your camera. In Genoa, the Courthouse Museum offers another rich look back in history.

Its fine French cuisine is served in an interior that matches the style and décor of the late 19th century.
